UM OFFERS ONE-WEEK COURSE ON RECENT RESEARCH IN PSYCHOLOGY

MISSOULA--

Recent research in social, personality and abnormal psychology is the subject of a course to be offered at the University of Montana Monday through Friday, July 20-24, from 8:30 a.m. to noon in Psychology 205.

The course will give an update of recent findings, especially those that alter earlier conclusions, and will include information about UM faculty research. Among the topics to be covered are sex roles, stress, emergency helping behavior and aggression.

Dr. Arthur Beaman, UM associate professor of psychology, will teach the course, which may be taken for two undergraduate or graduate credits. The fee is $60. Pre-registration is preferred but registration may be completed at the first class session.

Application forms and information are available at the Summer Programs Office, 125 Main Hall, University of Montana, Missoula, MT 59812; (406) 243-2900. Former UM students should get in touch with the Office of Admissions, (406) 243-6266 for information about re-application.
